Treating us to their twinkling slices of utterly infectious indie-pop, lush vocals and jangly hooks flow as the sunny charisma of front-woman Siân Alex charms each and every one of us. - Get In Her Ears

'What Party?' delivers a raw, unpolished sound that brings with it a dynamism that's certainly a welcome element in the current music climate.'

- Wavegirl

First act Gold Baby serve up an indie-pop concoction with a definite US slacker influence that has a similar effect on the listener to those sweets that have a sugary crust around sour core. You know that the sharpness is coming, but that doesn't make it any less powerful when it hits you. - Joyzine UK

Really enjoyed checking out the very cool @goldbabyband in Brixton last night! - MTV MUSIC UK

Flowing with lush, swooping vocals and catchy, jangly hooks, it showcases Gold Baby's ability to create twinkling slices of utterly infectious indie-pop. - Mari Lane

@Marimindles

'What Party?' is a memorable and promising work of melodic guitar driven indie-pop ~~paired with a cheery reminder i'm going to die alone.~~ Every ageing cat owner needs this song in their life.' - Earthly Pleasures Blog
